

Renaissance religion.
The Bible in the Renaissance
Girolamo Savonarola (1498-1998)

Two-days conference

London (GB), 7-8 may 1998

Programma

Thursday 7 May: The Bible in the Renaissance

10.00 Letizia Panizza (Royal Holloway, London)

Lorenzo Valla: Setting the Renaissance Agenda. (i) Did God write elegantly as well as truthfully? (ii) Did he supervise translations of His book?

10.45 Michael Heath (King's College London)

Erasmus and the Psalms

11.40 John Flood (Institute of Germanic Studies)

Luther's Bible - From Genesis to Reception

12.20 Paulo Alexandre Pereira (King's College, London)

Biblical exemplarity in Gil Vicente's Breve Sumario da Historia de Deus.

2.15 Dom Henry Wansbrough (St Benet's Hall, Oxford)

The Achievement of Tyndale

3.00 Canon Vincent Strudwick (Kellogg College, Oxford)

English fears of social disintegration and modes of control in relation to the vernacular scriptures 1534-1603

4.00 Ceri Davies (University of Wales Swansea)

The Bible in the British Tongue: the Welsh translations of 1567 and 1588

4.45 ROUND TABLE

Friday 8 May: Girolamo Savonarola, 1498-1998

2.15 Mark Davie (University of Exeter)

Religious Controversy in Florence before Savonarola: Pulci and Ficino

2.45 Michael O'Connor (Ushaw College, University of Durham)

The Ark and the Temple: Uses of Biblical Imagery in Savonarola's Preaching to the Florentines

4.00 Alison Brown (Royal Holloway, University of London)

'The Cools, the Hots and the Don't Knows': Some non-religious participants in the Pamphlet War

4.30 Remo Catani (University of Cardiff)

Savonarola and Astrology

5.15 ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION

Fonte: <http://www.mailbase.ac.uk/lists/italian-studies/1998-03/0082.html>