

18th European Symposium on Medieval Logic and Semantics
8-11 June 2010, Bologna

Usus loquendi, discretio audientis, intentio proferentis
Pragmatic Approaches to Language During the Middle Ages
(IX-XIV Century)

Dear Friends,

here you find some informations about the next Symposium.

I confirm that the symposium will be held at the University of Bologna, from 8th to 11th June 2010, but in a different hall. We are going to use the lecture hall of the Scuola Superiore di Studi Umanistici for the sessions, located in via Marsala 26 (it is close to the place previously indicated). You see attached a detailed program.

By now, not all the colleagues included in the program have confirmed their participation, giving a definitive title to their contribution and indicating their arrival/departure time and their hotels. Thus, I ask them to do it immediately, or to communicate officially their renunciation.

If you need any information about how to get to Bologna (from the airport, for instance), don't hesitate to ask me.

Looking forward to seeing you in Bologna,
with my best regards

Costantino Marmo
